Suggestions from JUDY GIANOTTI for future emergencies

I have been talking to people who were here during hurricane.

I had a great idea last night.

i ordered red plastic tape from Amazon last night.

A simple kit with flashlight.

Red tape to be tied outside. Lamp post or light on garage indicating you are at home.

Two pieces of tape to indicate a problem.

Information on phone chargers. I have priced them from 10 dollars from Amazon.

20 dollars from office depot or 30 for best.

Chargers depending on size will charge phone 1-2-3 times depending model and size.

Maybe small plastic bin to hold kit for quick use.

I have bought roll red tape to donate.

I have five blue flashlights to donate that were on sale at tool store next to Office Max and Ollie's.

it would be nice to have list of people who probably be here in storm.

It would be nice to care for our community in positive way.
